AFTER THE FIEND.

INDIGNANT CITIZENS HOTLY PURSUING THE RAPIST.

The Brute Thought to be Surrounded and His Capture Nearly Expected by the Community.

Special to the Democrat.

LAMONTE, Mo., June 8.—The greatest excitement and indignation exists in this community, and indeed in this section of the county, growing out of the attempted outrage on the person of Miss Dump by the negro Lawless.

A systematic search for the brute has been commenced and scores of citizens were out all night watching places where it was thought he might go for succor or information.

The hard rain of this morning has made farm work impossible and nearly the entire community is engaged in the chase.

The pursuers think they have the black fiend located and surrounded, and if they are correct in this he will most likely be captured before night. With the hunt as at present conducted it is almost impossible for the negro to escape.

With the feeling as at present in the community the would-be rapist may consider himself fortunate if the jail doors close behind him.

The frequency with which this character of crime is reported has caused many good and conservative citizens to openly advocate the severest and speediest punishment when the fiend is caught, and it will be lucky for the negro if he falls into the hands of the regular officials or of some citizens who take a more conservative view of the affair.

It is probable that before to-morrow the chase will be ended and the fiend in jail or otherwise disposed of.

Accomplished His Purpose.

A DEMOCRAT reporter met a gentleman this morning who had just arrived from Lamonte. He stated that it was generally understood that the negro succeeded in his hellish design and debauched the young woman.

Just before the train left Lamonte the news came that the negro was seen running across an oat field about three and a half miles southwest of town. An armed posse of 200 men was about two miles behind him.

KILLED THIS MORNING.

Brakeman C. M. Baker Struck in the Head by a Bridge.

Another deplorable railroad accident occurred on the Missouri Pacific this morning at St. Aubert, about seven miles west of Chamois, the location of the recent extensive washout.

After west bound Missouri Pacific freight train No. 121 in charge of Conductor Wm. Marsh had passed the bridge at St. Aubert, at about 6:30 a. m., Brakeman C. M. Baker was missed. Search was commenced and it was discovered that he was not on the train.

An investigation resulted in showing that Baker had been seen just before the bridge was reached. The stream was dragged and a section man found the lifeless body of Baker at the bottom.

The manner of his death is unknown. The bridge at this point is a high one and not considered dangerous. He may have been on top of an unusually high furniture car or had swung around on the ladder just at the bridge approach. An examination showed that not only had he fallen into the water and drowned, but had also been violently thrown against the bridge timbers.

Mr. Baker boarded at the Union house on Engineer street and had been on the Missouri Pacific about three months. He has no known relatives in the state. His body will be brought to Sedalia on train No. 125 to-night.

He was a member of the B. of R. R. T. I. W. Kinzie and J. D. Albaugh have gone down to bring back the body. His parents live at Osceola, Iowa.

He Was Convicted.

Grant Shy, alias Bruce, was arrested for robbing John A. Nicholson, of Lincoln, at Snap's restaurant a few nights ago, was taken before Justice Fisher this afternoon and fined $5 and costs for petit larceny. The total amounted to $22.60.

The amount stolen from Nicholson was about $12 and was taken from his pants while asleep.

Shy will go to jail.

NOT MURDERED.

THE REPORTED KILLING OF MRS. G. M. CAMPBELL FALSE.

She Is the Sister of J. M. Varber at Gailey—The "Democrat" Cears Up the Rumor.

About two weeks ago, Mr. J. M. Varber, a prosperous and influential farmer living near Gailey, Mo., called at the DEMOCRAT office and inquired concerning a newspaper report of the murder of his sister, Mrs. G. M. Campbell, who had been living with her husband and family at Braidwood, Choctaw Nation, on the St. Louis & San Francisco railway.

Mr. Varber stated that he had not heard from his sister since the 21st of December, 1891. Up to that time the families had corresponded regularly. Shortly after the receipt of the last letter, the newspapers contained an account of a wife-murder at Braidwood by a man named Campbell. The letters suddenly ceased and as Mr. Varber did not hear from them again, he was compelled to think that the murdered woman was his sister. He endeavored to renew correspondence but received no reply.

His brother-in-law, Mr. Campbell, was a hard-working man, employed in the coal mines, and it was hard to believe him capable of such a terrible crime. The couple had always lived happily together and had raised quite a family of children, some of whom were grown and married.

The DEMOCRAT began to investigate the case, and after considerable correspondence received the following letter to-day from the postmaster at Braidwood:

BRAIDWOOD, I. T., June 6, '92.

To the Editor of the Democrat:

Replying to yours of 3rd inst. regarding G. M. Campbell, will say that Mr. Campbell is living within one and a half miles of Braidwood with his wife and children. The party named in papers as having murdered his wife, etc., must have been another man.

Yours respectfully,

W. H. DECK, P. M.

This will doubtless be glad news to Mr. Varber and his family, who feel assured that their daughter and sister is sound and well.

Police Court.

J. Yager, charged with trespassing, was fined $5.

D. Shields, Burt McCabe and James Powell, for being intoxicated, got $5 each.

Jack Hester and Geo. Reed, two colored porters, got into an altercation on the depot platform yesterday and were fined $8 and $6 respectively.

Ike Parmer, charged with disturbing the peace by fighting Will Mays, was fined $7.

Will May, Ed. Segerdahl and Ernest Hardin, up for fighting, were discharged.

The case of J. M. Logan was again continued until June 15th.

Horace Humbles was brought in by Officers Mooney and Murphy while court was in session. He was wanted for assaulting Morris Shea on the night of May 15th. His case went over until to-morrow morning.

A CAKE WALK.

The City Hospital Committee Met to Arrange for Future Entertainment.

The ladies of the Sedalia city hospital committee met in the parlors of the Commercial club yesterday afternoon. The hospital work is in good condition, and the future seems to be flattering for the erection of this highly worthy and much-needed institution.

A number of plans for future entertainments were suggested, chief among which was a cake walk and a breach of promise suit which would be conducted by the prominent lawyers of the city and a number of our society people.

The latter would be sure to draw an immense crowd, and would doubtless be productive of much amusement.

HEARD'S THANKS.

Conveyed Through the Committee to the Convention.

At the adjournment of the congressional convention Tuesday a committee was appointed to notify Hon. John T. Heard of his nomination. The committee received from Mr. Heard the following reply:

To Ed. T. Orear, Thos. S. Carter and A. A. Johnson, committee: Please convey to the convention my grateful acknowledgments for the honor it has done me, assuring its members that nothing but a sense of imperative duty to remain here prevents my being present to meet my friends and personally express my gratitude for this generous avowal of their continued confidence and to renew my pledges of fidelity to their service.

J. T. HEARD.

Entertained the Rifles.

After the regular drill last night the Sedalia Rifles formed in line and marched over to Ed. Love's restaurant where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Love.

The boys enjoyed the treat thoroughly and everything went "merry as a marriage bell" until McCarty perpetrated a pun on the hosts name. He should have been drowned but the captain let him off on account of his youth.

Some good songs were sung and Captain Demuth in a short speech thanked Mr. Love for his kindness. The Rifles retired to their homes with kind thoughts of their genial host and gentle hostess.

Joe Shelby Appointed.

A dispatch from Jefferson City says that Gov. Francis has appointed Gen. Joe O. Shelby, recorder of deeds of Bates county to fill a vacancy caused by the death of S. C. Douglas. If he is as efficient as a recorder as he was as a fighter thirty years ago the county that secures his services is to be congratulated.

They Saw the Races.

From the Boston Herald.

It was mighty virtuous in the English house of commons to defeat a motion to adjourn over Derby day and then to have only a baker's dozen turn up to attend to business on the day of the race. The M. P. goes in for rigidity, but he is again its application.

THE VARIOUS COMMITTEES MAKING PREPARATIONS.

The City to Be Decorated and Arrangements Made for a Regal Entertainment.

The local bankers are making generous preparations for the entertainment of the Missouri Bankers' association, and a royal entertainment is to result. The work of decorating is progressing, and when completed the general appearance will be fine. Arches across Ohio street are being built and decorated, while merchants and business men are preparing to assist by decorating their several places of business.

To-morrow evening a reception will be tendered the visiting bankers, to which are invited the leading business men of the city. The reception will be held at Siphers, and nothing will be undone to make the occasion one of pleasure and enjoyment.

On Friday night a banquet will be spread at Siphers tendered by the local bankers to the association exclusively.

Outside of the mayor, the president of the Commercial club and a representative from each of the Delays Counted Favorable to Blaine's Candidacy.

Convention Adjourned Until Eleven O'clock To-morrow, When the Battle Begins.

THE CONTEST VERY CLOSE.

Blaine's Capture the Missouri Committeemanship.

Special to the Democrat.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—The convention opened at 11:26 to-day. After permanent organization was effected, time was devoted to platform and contests. McKinley's address on taking the chair permanently was to-day's feature. The credentials committee was granted more time. Report will be made to-morrow, and is expected to develop each candidate's full strength. All delays are counted favorable to Blaine. Balloting will not begin before Friday. Bayne, of Wisconsin, says the poll of delegates shows Harrison 438, Blaine 420, Alger 42. McKinley was made permanent chairman and spoke thirteen minutes, exciting the wildest applause. C. W. Johnson of Minnesota, permanent secretary. The secretary announced 896 votes in the convention. Necessary for choice, 450. Clarkson of Iowa, J. H. Manley, of Maine, A. M. Crane, of Massachusetts, R. C. Kerens, of Missouri, P. D. Cheney, of New Hampshire, Frank S. Weatherbee, M. S. Holbert, Vermont, Mahone, of Virginia, were named as national committeemen. The balance of states granted more time. Next order of business, is the presentation of names of candidates for president. On motion of DeYoung the convention adjourned to eleven to-morrow.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

A Young Man Killed in a Field While Working this Morning.

The storm of this morning was a very severe one, the rainfall being heavy and the sky filled with lightning. One of the bad results was the fatal injuring of a young farmer named Frank Foley on his father's farm about seven miles southeast of Sedalia.

About 6 o'clock, Mr. Foley and his father went into the field to plant sweet potatoes. They had been working nearly an hour when the storm began to increase in fury.

They were separated quite a distance apart, when suddenly without any warning a vivid flash of lightning, followed by a terrific peal of thunder, blinded the men. Young Foley fell to the ground as if shot. His father was badly stunned, but finally succeeded in reaching his helpless boy and found him apparently dead. There was not a mark nor a bruise to show where the thunder bolt had struck.

He was carried to his father's house and Dr. Abel, of Sedalia, summoned. An examination was made but further effort was futile as the young fellow was dead.

GOODY, HERE COMES

The EVENING DEMOCRAT.

"I would earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

MISSOURI endorsed Harrison, and instructed for the little man; but the DEMOCRAT will wager Blaine does him up for the control of the Missouri delegation.

A NOMINATION at Minneapolis will be a great relief to the local republican organ which has "rid the fence" till it is sore trying to support both Blaine and Harrison.

Isn't the Gazette satisfied with the pawn-shop it now occupies, that it wants to follow Mr. Leist up? Moving would redeem no blue tickets. In fact, it might add to them.

"CAPITAL and labor" are both interested in street improvement. The property along the streets improved is rendered more valuable, and labor is given an opportunity of securing employment.

CLEVELAND is confident of democratic success next fall. Incidentally it may be remarked that the friends of the ex-president are confident that Cleveland will be the nominee of the party which Cleveland believes will succeed.

THE Gazette reports its weekly circulation to Rowell's directory at exceeding two thousand, two hundred and fifty, and its daily at exceeding eight hundred. If its daily circulation has been exaggerated as much as its weekly, peanut journalism is killing it off faster than the public had supposed.

THE Redeemer of the world announced that the sacred sabbath day was made for man, and not man for the sabbath; and yet there are thousands of men who believe and teach that money is the standard by which men should be measured. This is not democratic doctrine.

THE "pea in a gourd-shell" who poses as sage in the Gazette office should cool his fevered brow, adopt a diet of buttermilk and seclude himself for a few days from the excitement of even the retired street upon which the Gazette is located until he recovers his temper. It is making a clown of him—that is, more of a clown than usual.

If the weather clerk had started in to boom the rock road proposition he could not have hit upon a stronger argument than the continued wet weather of the past four months. Just when people are beginning to hope for some sunshine to abate the mud nuisance, along comes another rain and the mud king is guaranteed a few more days of absolute rule. It is bad; it has hurt all kinds of business; but if the experience this spring teaches the tax-payer the absolute necessity of a good system of roads—one that will be passable at all seasons of the year—the long continued object lesson we have had this season will not be an unmixed evil.

A NEW YORK newspaper says there is no public sentiment back of the mob which hung the negro rapist in that state. The DEMOCRAT does not believe this statement. Where there is no public sentiment back of a mob there is no mob. There may be public sentiment and no mob, just as there may be clouds and no rain. But when a mob occurs it is itself an expression of public sentiment.

ENCOURAGING.

The many evidences of the growth and improvement of Sedalia that one sees on every side are encouraging.

In spite of the fact that the past two seasons were remarkable for the record in house building, there are at present very few vacant dwelling houses in the city and still fewer really desirable ones. This, too, in face of the fact that only last fall the M., K. & T. offices were removed and a number of families taken from the city.

The places made vacant by these departures have been more than filled up by the new families that have come to the Queen City during the past six months.

In spite of the excessive wet weather and consequent bad roads, business of all kinds is good and with anything like a favorable season from now on, the year 1892 will witness a phenomenal growth in the city.

This is encouraging. It shows the wide-awake, progressive men of Sedalia that their enterprise is appreciated. That their effort to build up and improve the town is known abroad and that their work is attracting desirable citizens.

The advancement made in street improvement alone has been of great benefit in showing strangers the real character of Sedalians and giving the city a good reputation away from home, and the further progress already decided upon in this direction will but emphasize and increase the good impressions already made.

Viewing the situation from the most conservative standpoint, there is every reason for Sedalians to feel encouraged at the prospects of the continued growth of the city.

THE Springfield Leader, which is under all circumstances and at all times a reliable democratic newspaper, has this to say of the convention to nominate a congressman: "Although the district is reliably democratic, a vigorous, active canvass must be made to swell the majority in the district, as well as in the state. With three tickets in the district it behooves the democrats to present a solid front. Don't let over-confidence allure you into indifference. The democratic candidate, Hon. John T. Heard, is a faithful representative of the people, closely identified with them, knows their sentiments and wants and is in harmony with the one and a fearless champion of the other. Greene county, especially, must not falter. We must give the nominee an increased vote. No disappointment or resistance must be shown because the northern counties of the district took everything in sight. The Greene county democracy will live to fight another day. We must keep up our record by giving John T. Heard every democratic vote in the county as well as every patriotic republican vote that can be induced to see his way clearly."

HON. JOHN T. HEARD deserves the compliment he received at the hands of the congressional convention of his party on Tuesday. He has been faithful and honest in his efforts to serve the people of the district and has at no time sought to play the part of boss or political dictator. While other congressmen were making trouble for themselves and wasting the time of the house in efforts to play the role of orator, Mr. Heard has been at work. When he does speak he is always listened to with attention because his colleagues know he has something to say. In fact Mr. Heard has made a model congressman and the people of his district appreciate his services as they deserve to be.

FREE BANK BILL.

Effort to Repeat the Tar on Other than National Banks.
From the Washington Cor. Republic.

Friends of the proposition to remove the 10 per cent. tax on banks other than national banks have not given up hope by any means, despite the fact that the house yesterday refused to suspend the rules and pass the bill introduced by Mr. Richardson, which had in view that effect. Mr. Richardson's bill had never been acted upon by a committee, and therefore had nothing at its back but mere sentiment in favor of it. There is before the banking and currency committee a similar measure to that which was defeated yesterday. Mr. Baker, chairman of that committee, at the instance of Mr. Livingston of Georgia and several other members, has decided to give a hearing before the committee to those who wish to see the tax in question repealed. Mr. Bacon said to-day to the correspondent of The Republic that he certainly thought there should be some such relief given the people, as would be the case in the event of the passage of the bill repealing the objectionable tax on state banks. He was in favor of some such measure. He also hoped from the hearing of the arguments which would be made before the committee on banking and currency that a satisfactory bill could be evolved. When the time comes the members who favor the measure hope by an open and full discussion in the house to induce that body to vote in a different manner from that which it recorded yesterday. Indeed Mr. Livingston is very confident that a bill of the character defeated yesterday will be passed by this house before adjournment and in time to have the senate act upon it if it wishes.

A Faithful Representative.

The Washington City correspondent of the Republic has this under date of the 7th inst.

"Representative Heard of Missouri to-day got through the House the senate bill to quiet and perfect the title to the town site of Boonville. Senator Vest got this bill through the upper branch. To-day Mr. Heard secured unanimous consent for its consideration in the House with the result mentioned. The bill provides for the issuance of a patent to the original grantors. It will make Boonville easy in its mind. Mr. Heard, by the way, received to-night a dispatch announcing that he had been re-nominated. If he had gone home to look after his fences he might have slipped up on the Boonville bill, the measure of all others in which his constituents are perhaps most directly interested.

ONCE TOO MANY.

The Manner in Which a Denison "Katy" Man Had His Hand Terribly Crushed.

Jack Shone, the foreman of the "Katy" blacksmith shop is getting along nicely at the M., K. & T. hospital with his crushed hand. Mr. Shone had a boy operating the trip hammer at the time of the accident. He was having some bars of iron hammered into a certain shape and told the young fellow to strike each of them twice.

The huge hammer descended accurately until the last bar was reached when Mr. Shone reached in to take out the iron when to his sudden horror the hammer came down the third time and crushed off his thumb and all his fingers, except the little one, on his left hand.

A Big Run of Stock.

From the Parsons Sun.

Sunday was the biggest day of the present year in stock shipments over the M., K. & T. railroad. Over thirty trains arrived in the city from 12 o'clock Saturday night until 12 o'clock Sunday night. Every engine on this section of the road was in almost constant use in moving the big shipment. About two hundred and thirty cars of stock were registered at the stock yards in this city Sunday. The Sun has it from good authority that the shipments for the year 1892 will even exceed those of last year, the largest in the history of the road, that the company have up to date exceeded last year's shipments by one hundred cars.

An Ominous Parallel.

From the Chicago Herald.

It is a fad with Mr. Blaine's friends to liken him to Henry Clay. Mr. Clay was speaker of the house three times and so was Mr. Blaine. Mr. Clay was a candidate for the presidency, and so was Mr. Blaine. Mr. Clay had a devoted party following, and so has Mr. Blaine. Mr. Clay conferred the presidency on one of his rivals, and so, substantially, did Mr. Blaine. Mr. Clay was a magnetic man, and so is Mr. Blaine. Thus runs the parallel up to date. But it may be run further. Mr. Clay was a candidate for the presidency in 1824 and was defeated. Mr. Blaine was a candidate for the presidency in 1884 and was defeated. Eight years after his first candidacy Mr. Clay was a candidate for the presidency and was again defeated. And now Mr. Blaine is a candidate after an eight-year interval; but if the parallel is to be continued will be again defeated. Mr. Blaine's friends would better choose some other prototype than Henry Clay.

MAIZE CAPTURES GERMANY.

American Cornmeal Growing Daily in Favor as a Bread Material.

Charles J. Murphy, formerly of Omaha, who has been commissioned by the government to enlighten Europeans with regard to the advantage of American corn, writes from Berlin details of the progress made. In Germany, he states, thirteen mills have been put in operation for grinding corn and some of them have been working night and day and have been unable to fill their orders. Several other mills in various parts of Germany will soon be erected, the demand for corn being so great. In Dresden, where two corn mills are in operation, more than half the bakers are selling maize-rye bread, composed of one part maize and two parts rye. Even the two mills in the latter city, one of them the Biennerts, the largest rye mill in Germany, are baking and selling large quantities of this bread and the old government garrison bakery is turning out thousands of loaves daily. The government is now putting in a corn milling plant in its large mill at Magdeburg and the government report on the value of corn as food will soon be published, which is the result of a thorough investigation and practical testing of bread making at the garrison bakery, which he is informed by the commission will be highly favorable.

J. SLOAT FASSETT IN THE CHAIR.

His Remarks to the Convention in Full—Ex-Speaker Reed Called On for a Speech and Responds—Gov. McKinley to Be Permanent Chairman.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—An angry, threatening day and delegates in thorough fighting mood, ill-natured almost to the point of savagery, were the marked features of the opening of the republican national convention to choose a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

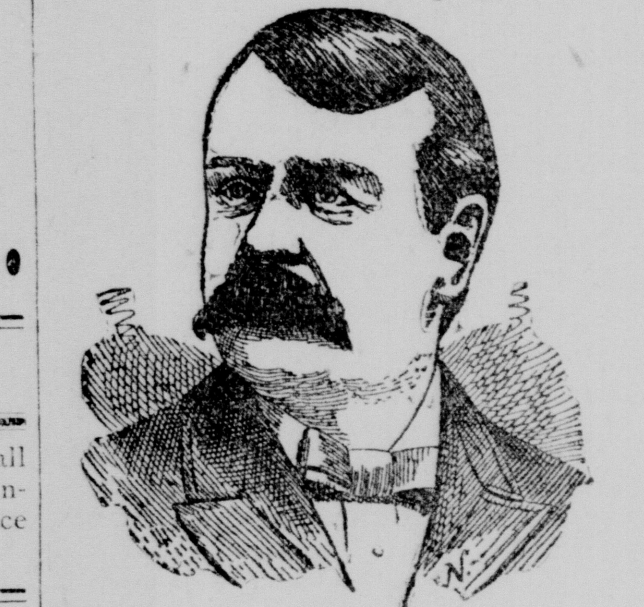

ORGANIZING THE CONVENTION.
It was fitting, perhaps, that the patriotic airs of "Columbia," "My Country," "Tis of Thee" and "The Star Spangled Banner" should be the prelude to the convention, and hardly had the last melody died away when Chairman Clarkson, of the national committee, rapped the tenth republican national convention to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. William Brush, chancellor of the University of Dakota of Mitchell, S. D.

Michael H. DeYoung, of California, one of the secretaries of the national committee, read the official call for the convention, and five minutes were consumed in this and other monotonous proceedings.

"Gentlemen of the convention," then said Mr. Clarkson, "I am instructed by the national committee to nominate for your temporary chairman Hon. J. Sloat Fassett, of New York."

There was a momentous pause while the body awaited the action that might be taken by the Harrison wing in opposition to Mr. Fassett's selection. But the anticipated contest did not take place. No one was placed in nomination in opposition to Mr. Fassett, and when the question was submitted there was not an opposing vote to Mr. Fassett's election.

"Your temporary chairman, gentlemen," was the introduction with which Mr. Clarkson presented Mr. Fassett to the convention. The expected Blaine demonstration was forthcoming when Mr. Fassett attempted to speak. One prolonged cheer resounded through the hall and galleries, and Blaine delegates arose as a man to salute their chairman.

Mr. Fassett said, as soon as he could be heard:

Mr. Clarkson and Fellow Republicans: For the distinguished honor which you have conferred upon me I am very grateful. I approach the duties of presiding officer with extreme diffidence and am sustained only by a reliance upon your generous forbearance and co-operation. It is eminently fitting that a republican convention should be held in a temple erected for the display of the products of protection to American industries and in this beautiful city of Minneapolis, at once the joy and the pride of the giant west. This city, which just about equals in age the republican party, with its prosperous mills and factories and workshops and its generous and happy homes, abounds in object lessons, teaching clearer than in any other place the sound wisdom of republican doctrines when optimized as facts.

We are met to exercise one of the highest privileges of our citizenships. As trustees of 7,000,000 of voting republicans gathered from every state and territory in the union it becomes our duty to formulate for the people the beliefs and purposes of our party relative to the living political questions of national importance and to choose that man for leader under whose guidance we feel we shall be most sure of establishing those beliefs in the form of laws.

We are here not as warring factions, struggling to win supremacy under favored leaders, but as the members of one great party looking to select from the shining roll of our honored great men that type of statesmen which shall be regarded as the soundest and most complete embodiment of the cardinal doctrines of our party. There is not a republican in this convention whose heart does not burn with ardor for triumph in the impending campaign. We all are eager for success; we are here to make the necessary preliminary arrangements and we hope to make them in the right way and in the right spirit.

If there is ever a time when it is proper for republicans to differ it is precisely on such occasions as this, when they are met together for the express purpose of reaching ultimate unity through the clash and contest of present differences.

In the wide reaching and delicate business of agreeing upon the standard bearers for a great party there is abundant opportunity for honest men to hold and express honest differences of opinion; the more diverse the views the more complete will be the final unanimity. The air is always sweeter and purer after a storm. It is our right now to oppose each other; it will be our duty to unite to-morrow. Our differences should end at the convention doors and will end there.

The eyes of all the republicans at home and the eyes of all our adversaries are intently fixed on this convention. The nation is watching us—our enemies to deride, our friends to ratify. The responsibility is enormous, but you will act wisely. The republican party has never yet made a mistake in its choice of candidates; it will not make a mistake here. All over this broad land the bonfires are being set to light the flames ready to be unfurled and the republicans at home are waiting to shout an approval of your choice. The history of our party since 1860 is the history of our country. There is not a single page that shines brighter for some act or some word of some great republican. Count me over your chosen heroes whom we are teaching our children to love—Lincoln, Seward, Grant, Sherman, Garfield, Logan, Harrison and Blaine. These are a few of our jewels and we may proudly turn to our democratic friends with the defiant challenge: "Match them." These men became great and remained great.

I have not the time even to count over the long list of work performed by them. You are all familiar with the story. The irrepressible conflict undertaken and concluded; slavery abolished; public credit re-established; the constitution of the union restored and reconstructed; the old flag washed of every stain and new stars added to its glory; the wide west thrown open to easy access and settlement; the policy of protection to American labor and American industry established, developed and vindicated; the markets of the world opened by the persuasive idea of reciprocity; the opening of the American republics to the products of the American workshop and the American farm, until to-day the nations of the earth are paying tribute to the sagacity of our legislation and diplomacy and Lord Salisbury has been driven to the significant confession that even in England free trade has proven a disappointment. Rivers and harbors have been opened to commerce, the white hulls of our new navy are plowing the waters of every sea; there has been peace maintained at home and respect secured abroad and so the list might be extended and expanded, while your patience might endure to listen, while our political adversaries though perpetually using every measure of our new republican policy are compelled to see the wisdom of our course and to confess that we have been right and that they have been wrong.

They have just about exhausted in the Fifty-first congress one year of congressional life in vain assaults upon three items in a tariff bill made up of thirty items. At this rate of progress they would have to be trusted for about eight hundred years in power before we could see a tariff formed upon lines agreed upon by our conflicting democratic friends.

But we cannot hope to win merely upon the recital of the achievements of our past, brilliant as they have been, any more than our adversaries can hope to succeed upon platforms of glittering praise. The past is chiefly useful to us in so far as it demonstrates the vitality of the party to redeem its pledges and its ability to govern a broad and enlightened and progressive people. Our pledges have been kept, all save one, and I greatly mistake the temper of the republican party if it will ever be contented until that pledge is made good.

Our method and honor is pledged to continue the contest for a free and honest ballot, until this vexed question is settled in the right. That all people should cast a free vote and have it honestly recorded and returned is the determination of the republican party and the despair and nightmare of democracy. It is the pride of the republican party that it never yet has committed an assault upon the freedom of the ballot. The entire vocabulary of political lines has grown out of attempts to prescribe assaults of the democracy upon the freedom of the ballot and fair play in the exercise of the elective franchise. And the individual words have been made intelligible by democratic practices. No question has ever been permanently settled and never will be fully determined until it is settled and until every citizen, white or black, east or west, north or south, can approach the ballot box with absolute security and have his vote counted with absolute honesty. None of us can rest assured that our liberties are safe, the vote of no man is safe. It is not the negro alone who is disfranchised, it is every American.

The contest before us assumes all its difficulties from the fact that we enter the presidential race handicapped by the certainty that in the electoral college of 44 members 150 votes are now already absolutely secured in advance to the democratic nominee, and these 150 votes come from the south, which is kept permanently solid through a perpetual breach of the guarantees of the constitution of the United States.

Sometimes we are told the mission of the republican party is ended. We have met our destiny and fulfilled it. But the destiny of a progressive party is never fulfilled in an advancing and expecting national life. So long as there remains a wrong to be redressed, so long as there remains a right to be enforced, so long as the privileges of citizenship are not freely enjoyed under the guarantee of the constitution to all citizens of this union just so long will there be a mission for the republican party. So long will there be a great work before us and each republican may exclaim: "I live to greet that season when man shall live by reason and not alone by gold, when man to man unite and every wrong made right, this whole world shall be lighted as Eden was of old. I live for every cause that lacks assistance, for every wrong that needs resistance; for the future in the distance, and the good that I can do."

The words "Harrison and Blaine" were mentioned so rapidly that the friends of the former candidate were taken by surprise and had no opportunity to cheer for their candidate. But the Blaine men made the most of the occasion, and for three minutes delegates waved their hats and handkerchiefs wildly in the air and cheered the great leader.

Another scene came when Chairman Fassett praised the work of the Fifty-first congress "under the iron will and strong arm of Thomas B. Reed." Almost equal to the ovation to Blaine was the enthusiasm inspired by this reference to the republican parliamentarian. He was seated far in the rear of the speaker's stand and was invisible to most of the audience. Some one started the cry of "Reed, Reed," and it was instantly taken up by the delegates and the gallery, but it was not until the chairman of the convention turned and beckoned commandingly to him that he finally arose from his seat. At the first sight of the distinguished son of Maine every delegate and every auditor arose to do him homage.

After the cheering subsided Mr. Reed said: Mr. President and Fellow Citizens—I want to add in the presence of this vast audience my hearty expression of feeling in the future of the republican party. [Applause.] Its past needs the endorsement of no man. It has the indomitable history of no man. It has the republican party as history itself. [Applause.] And while we are prevented from pointing with pride to the achievements of our party on account of our tenderness for the democratic party. [Laughter and applause.] nevertheless we sit here to-day rejoicing that our past history shows that from our birth until now our character has been such that it is a guarantee of the magnificent future we are bound to have. [Applause.] It is true that we have done great things, but it is equally true that we have no right to rest upon them. Our party is glorious, but our future ought to be more so. It is true that we have given this country a wonderful reciprocal prosperity. It is true that wealth has been poured into the laps of our people by the great system which we believe in and which we have carried out, but I say to you to-day that there is another future even greater than having given prosperity to a country by the republican party. [Applause.] And that nobler future is to give every citizen of the United States liberty of thought and action. [Cheers.] Wealth and prosperity are notable, but human liberty is magnificent. [Cheers.]

The other officers selected by the national committee were then chosen.

It was ordered that, until the permanent organization should be effected, the convention should be governed by the rules of the last preceding republican convention.

Ex-Senator W. J. Sewell, of New Jersey, presented a resolution that the roll of states and territories be called and that the chairman of each delegation announce the names of the persons selected to serve on the committees as follows: Permanent organization, rules and order of business, credentials and resolutions. This was adopted and the roll of states began.

The member of the Alabama delegation said that the contest in Alabama had just been settled and he asked that the state be passed until the delegates could hold a conference. This was agreed to and then each state as it was called announced through its chairman the members it had chosen for service on the committees.

When the name of Kansas was called and Senator Ingalls made his report as chairman of that delegation, he was heartily applauded. An ovation equally flattering greeted William Warner, past commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., when he presented the report of the Missouri delegation, and Gov. McKinley when he submitted the report of Gov. Foraker as Ohio's member of the committee on resolutions, also received hearty approval. Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania; ex-Senator Mahone, of Virginia, and ex-Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, were also received with enthusiasm.

Immediately after the completion of the call of states and the announcement of the membership of various committees, the convention adjourned until 11 o'clock to-day.

GOV. MCKINLEY PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.

Gov. McKinley this year will not be in the position which republicans have grown to expect to see him hold in a national convention, viz: That of chairman of the platform committee. The reason is to be found in the fact that he has a position of higher rank—permanent chairman—to which he was elected by the committee on permanent organization last evening.

The committee on rules organized immediately after adjournment of the convention. H. H. Bingham, of Pennsylvania, was chairman and S. F. Stall, of Arkansas, secretary. Henry H. Smith met with the committee and aided in the work of remodeling the rules. The rules of the first national convention were taken up. The action of the national committee in allowing the claims of New Mexico to six delegates was approved.

A proposition was made in the form of an amendment that in view of the population of Utah, as well as of the count of the two delegations from that territory, it be allowed four votes in the convention. This was debated at considerable length, it being maintained that such action would have a bad effect on other territories.

When put to a vote only seven favored the proposition. The representation was then allowed to stand, two for each congressional district and four at large from each of the states, six from New Mexico, and two from each of the other territories and District of Columbia.

The rules of the house of representatives of the Fifty-first congress in so far as they were applied were adopted. W. H. Withington, of Michigan, submitted the following rule, which was adopted:

It shall be in order to lay on the table a proposition if adopted shall be to carry with it the whole question or prejudice such measure.

BODIES NOT FOUND.

Reports to That Effect From the Stricken Cities.

OIL CITY AND TITUSVILLE, PA.

The List of the Dead That Was Published Does Not Give an Adequate Idea of Loss of Life—Where Are the Children Still a Problem.

OIL CITY, Pa., June 8.—Yesterday morning broke cloudless and the sunshine helped to dispel the gloom overhanging the valley. With daylight the searching parties were again at work seeking for the remains of the victims of the great calamity Sunday.

Mayor Hunt has issued a proclamation calling on all storekeepers, manufacturers, bankers and business men to close their establishments so that all may engage in the work necessary to recovery from the present condition of the city.

That many of the victims of the flood will never be found is certain. The swift current has carried many away, the flames have made cinders of others and the crumbling banks of the creek have made their graves.

The list of the dead as published does not give an adequate idea of the loss of life. In the portion of the city which suffered the greatest damage there lived hundreds of foreign laborers whose names are unknown and who never will be found. In the same section there were numerous children and of the great number only ten have been found. The problem is, where are all the rest? Those who are acquainted with this section of the city say that scores have perished who will never be heard of. These same continue to estimate the loss at 150 and others insist if a complete record could be had the awful list would reach 300.

Yesterday the funeral rites over twenty-two bodies of the victims of the fire and flood were held and never were sadder or more impressive scenes witnessed.

Up to noon the relief committee had received $5,600, making a total so far of about $15,000. There are no young children left orphans. The children were the ones which must have quickly succumbed to the flood and fire, and not a case of a destitute orphan child has yet been reported. As a rule death came to the entire family, if not, the fathers, mothers and older children were the survivors.

The oil tank on the Clapp farm caught fire again last night and caused great excitement. Some of the more timorous were greatly frightened lest there should be another explosion, but this trouble is not anticipated by those familiar with the place.

AT TITUSVILLE.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., June 8.—The coroner's jury yesterday morning made a trip over the ground where the lives were lost in Saturday's awful disaster, picking up information which may be of service to them when they come to examine into this calamity.

The total amount of money subscribed so far is $11,720, but it will take more than a dozen times that sum to do much practical good.

The aggregate money loss in this city is now placed at $1,500,000.

It was reported late last evening that ten bodies had been found at Miller farm, seven miles below here, but the report has not yet been verified. There is no question that a number of bodies are floating down the river or are lodged somewhere in the timber which is piled high up along the river bank and on small islands which have been formed by the course of the creek having been diverted. The search for bodies can only be prosecuted by daylight, as the electric plant has been disabled.

SAD DROWNING.

In Attempting to Rescue the Son, the Father, Mother and Daughter Lose Their Lives by Drowning.

FOREST CITY, Mo., June 8.—Yesterday Stephen Shaler, a boy 16 years of age, was running across a foot bridge over a pond when he fell overboard. His mother and sister, the latter a girl of 15, witnessed the accident and jumped into the water to rescue him. The water was over their heads, and instead of saving the boy they found themselves struggling for their own lives.

The father, Stephen Shaler, was summoned to the spot by the cries of his drowning wife and children, and, although unable to swim, at once jumped into the water.

The fight for life only lasted a short time, and when the neighbors finally reached the spot it was only in time to remove from the water, the bodies of father, mother and children. Five other little children are left orphans by the accident.

THE ELECTION IN OREGON.

Congressmen, State Officers and the Legislature Secured by the Republican.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—The first fight in the political struggle of 1892 was held in Oregon yesterday when a state election to choose two congressmen, two state officers and the legislature occurred.

Herrmann, republican in the First congressional district, is elected to congress by 3,500 plurality. Ellis, republican, is elected from the Second district by about 4,000 plurality. Moore, republican, is elected supreme judge by at least 6,000 plurality. For attorney-general the count is not completed and it is still in doubt. The republicans control both branches of the legislature.

Fire at Conway Springs, Kan.

WICHITA, Kan., June 8.—The Pacific house, the principal hotel at Conway Springs, burned to the ground early yesterday morning. Fifteen guests escaped in their night clothes. The loss is estimated at $5,000, partially insured.

In the senate on the 7th the diplomatic and consular appropriation bills were considered. In the house the urgency deficiency bill was considered by committee of the whole.

SECOND KANSAS DEMOCRATS.

Col. H. L. Moore, of Lawrence, Nominated for Congress.
LAWRENCE, Kan., June 8.—The democratic convention of the Second congressional district met yesterday. J. B. Chapman, of Fort Scott, was made temporary chairman and Frank L. Webster, of Lawrence, secretary. The contest has narrowed down to one between Judge Stephen Allen, of Linn county, and Col. H. L. Moore, of this city. Manford Schoonover, of Anderson, having withdrawn. Bourbon county will present the name of Jonathan Davis, but its second choice is uncertain.

The report of the committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent and it was adopted.

Mr. Barney Sheridan presented the report of the committee on resolutions.

The resolutions were adopted amid great enthusiasm. The roll of counties was then called for nominations. Mr. J. T. Higley, of Garnett, placed in nomination the name of Hon. Stephen A. Allen, of Linn county. Hon. J. D. McClevery placed in nomination the name of Hon. Jonathan Davis, of Fort Scott. Capt. L. F. Green, of Baldwin, placed in nomination the name of Col. H. L. Moore, of Lawrence, whose name was greeted with prolonged applause.

A call of the roll of counties resulted in 9 for Davis, 17 for Allen and 44 for Moore. Col. H. L. Moore was announced as the nominee of the convention and upon the motion of McClevery for Allen and Sheridan for Davis the nomination of Col. Moore was made unanimous. Judge McClevery and Col. Jones were appointed to escort Col. Moore to the platform.

At the close of the convention the following congressional committee was announced: Anderson county, T. F. McDonald; Allen county, A. L. Taylor; Bourbon county, S. A. Riggs; Johnson county, John F. Herman; Linn county, J. A. Martey; Miami county, B. J. Sheridan, and Franklin county, S. L. Brookling.

Col. L. H. Moore, the nominee of the convention for congressman in the Second district against Funston, is a native of the Buckeye state. He was born on a farm near Mantua, O., in 1837. He grew up as a farmer's lad and received his education at Hiram college while Garfield was president of that institution.

Col. Moore came to Kansas in 1858 and has been prominently identified with Kansas history since then.

two very high arches across Ohio

Freight Train Wrecked.

The evening M., K. & T. from the south was about six hours late last night, arriving in Sedalia about 12 o'clock. The delay was caused by a wreck near Muskogee, in the territory. Several freight cars jumped the track, blocking traffic,
but no one was injured.All the new shapes, Youman, Dunlap, Knox and many other styles are now in, for your headgear. ST. LOUIS CLOTHING CO.

Choice for Republican Candidate.

Six-tenths of the congressional delegates polled yesterday as to their choice of candidates at Minneapolis favored Blaine, three-tenths Harrison, while one-tenth believed a dark horse would be more easily beaten. They were all unanimous in the opinion that the Minneapolis nominee would be beaten.For Children's Hats and Caps,

LISTEN TO IT.

Frank Stevens and Al. Miller are "Delighted" With Their New Parsons Home.Purchasing Agent Stevens, of the M., K. & T., and his corps of clerks,
Al. Miller and Frank C. Stevens, arrived from Sedalia Sunday and are now fitting up their office in the room occupied by the law and fueldepartments at the general office building. Al. Miller was accompanied by his wife and little child, and will go to housekeeping in the rooms now occupied by T. H.
Rogers, corner Central and Crawford avenues, the family of Mr.
Rogers having decided to spend the summer and fall with friends in the east. Both Stevens and Miller are thoroughly delighted with the change. When they were left alone at Sedalia life
indeed was almost an exertion.
They missed the genial companionship of their fellow-employees of the general offices, and Sunday when they reached the city and found all nature smiling a welcome, the like
of which they had never experienced in the wilds of Missouri, their delight knew no bounds and they gave full vent to their pent-up feelings.
The San welcomes the purchasing department. It was a little tardy, but nevertheless its welcome is none
the less cordial or sincere.—Parsons

A BAD RUNAWAY.

J. E. Bloom, of New Florence, Seriously Hurt by Being Dragged by His Horses.Yesterday afternoon about one mile east of town, J. E. Bloom, of New Florence, Mo., was seriously injured in a runaway.He was driving along the road towards his home when his team took fright at a piece of paper and started to run. He made a desperate effort to stop them, but in his excitement the wagon was turned over and Mr. Bloom thrown violently to the ground. His left leg became entangled in the lines and he was dragged a distance of 100 yards.He was found and brought to Sedalia and taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Louis Jacobs, corner of Twelfth and New York avenue. Dr. Bronson was summoned and, after a careful examination, found that Mr. Bloom had a fracture of the left leg above the ankle and a dislocation of the right shoulder, besides many scratches and contusions. It is not thought that he is internally injured.

DESTROY THE SCOURGE.

The People of Sedalia Should Begin at Once to Kill Tree Pests.A DEMOCRAT reporter was passing along East Broadway and, when opposite Dr. E. C. Evans' handsome residence, stopped to see why the genial doctor was so intently engaged in hunting over his lawn in a rather war-like manner."This," said Doctor Evans, "is something that everyone in Sedalia should commence at once and prosecute vigorously. Of all the disgusting things calculated to cause hysterics and "jimjams," I know of nothing more liable to bring about this result than the millions of green worms that destroyed the foliage on our magnificent shade trees last year."These worms have evidently come to stay in Sedalia. When they first appeared, there was but one crop per year, now there are two.
The worms are propagated by the miller and it is only by destroying these that we can hope to get rid of the worms. It was found out last year that sprays were of no practical benefit; those who used them having as many worms as those who did not."The miller made its first appearance last Sunday morning, and I have commenced to kill them.
Each miller produces eighteen worms and you can feel assured that none of them die before matritury. The miller crawls up the tree, attaches itself to the under part of the leaf and is hatched by the sun. It then develops itself by feeding on the leaf, and then goes into the ground, to be reproduced as a miller."It would be a good idea if we should go to the extreme of having the mayor issue a proclamation requesting everyone to kill the millers.
I believe that in two weeks careful work at morning, noon and night,
the pest can be removed. This may seem like an immense undertaking, but it is the only plan by which our trees and lawns can be saved. If the worms are not killed we might as well chop down our trees."

Track Walker Struck.

Basil Cummings, a track walker living at New Haven was struck by westbound Missouri Pacific freight train No. 129, at an early hour this morning and badly injured. He was sent to the St. Louis hospital.
It is supposed that Cummings
went to sleep on the track.

Nothing In It.

There was a rumor this morning
that one of the men at the Missouri Pacific shops had been struck by lightning and severely injured. An investigation proved the rumor to be false.

THIS IS BUSINESS.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE BY THE M., K. & T.The Council Donates the Lots Just Beyond the Terminus of East Main Street.The grant of land by the city to the M., K. & T. last night upon which that company will erect some very extensive improvements looks well for the future railway interests of Sedalia.A reporter was shown the plans and specifications by Civil Engineer
A. B. Thurston. Here is what we will have:A large and commodious freight house, 30 by 192 feet.A round house built with a capacity for accommodating 36 engines.A machine shop, 80 by 140 feet,
in which will be done all the repairing between Parsons and St. Louis.An office building for clerks and officers, 30 by 60 feet.A large oil house which will be 30 feet long and 35 feet wide.The new sidetrack facilities will be very extensive, about five miles of rails being put down. The tracks will extend beyond the "X"
office, and will form a perfect network in connection with the ones already laid.The coal chutes will be increased in number and the total capacity enlarged over those recently built.
The sheds now have a capacity of 4,000 tons.The total expenses of the outlay by the M., K. & T. will amount to over $60,000. The company means business, and will proceed at once to begin the construction of the different buildings. They have not asked a dollar from the city, and will proceed in a thorough and business-like manner. It is the intention of the management to consummate everything by the time the Missouri, Kansas and Eastern is completed into St. Louis.The pay-rolls of the company will be vastly increased in Sedalia.
It will give employment to many men now in the city, and will also bring skilled machinists with their families from other points. In this way the different business houses of the city will have a much increased patronage, the empty residences—and they are extremely few, even now—will be filled up and a demand made for many new ones.It is the intention of the "Katy"
officials to pull away from the Missouri Pacific at a later date, the time not being definitely settled,
and an elegant and handsome passenger depot will be built. The architecture will be of the most attractive style and the building will be a very expensive one.The citizens of Sedalia will appreciate the work of the M., K. & T., and will feel that the removal of the general offices was not such a bad thing, after all.

PLAY BALL THERE!

A Good Game at the Park To-Morrow--Warrensburg's Team.To-morrow the Sedalias have their second round with the War-rensburg team, and judging from the batting list they will have a hard tussle. The batting list of the Warrensburg club is as follows:
Gilpatrick, pitch; Roach, catch;
Scott, first base; Swearingen, second base; Collins, third base; Luber,
short stop; Gossett, right field;
Littleton, center field; Parker,
left field.As will be seen, some strange names appear here, and it is well known that Warrensburg is loaded for the home club. They have imported the noted
Smelzer battery, of Kansas City, Gossett and Parker, and will be able to give Sedalia the hardest game they have steered up against
yet. However, our team is confident, and having the encouragement of the public, will put up by far their best game. The game will be well worth seeing, and the "fans" especially do not want to miss it. Game will be called at 3:30 sharp.

CITY COUNCIL.

It Meets in Adjourned Session and Passes an Ordinance Giving Property to the M., K. & T.The city council met in adjourned session last night with Acting Mayor Bell Hutchinson in the chair. Councilmen present, Mc-Kenzie, Dean, Wigton, Deckman,
Honkomp, Hutchinson, Bosserman.The meeting was for the purpose of hearing and considering the report of City Attorney Cashman,
who was requested at the session
Tuesday night to look into the matter of vacating the open lots covered by the old mill pond at the end of East Main street, to enable the M., K. & T. to erect their proposed machine shops, round house and freight depot. A profile of the proposed improvements were shown by Civil Engineer A. B. Thurston.

Attorney Cashman had two ordinances prepared one of which required that the round house be of a certain capacity and that the shops, etc., be retained and operated ever after their erection. The other one gave the property to the M., K. & T. without any reservations whatever. Mr. Thurston arose at this point and said that the company would hardly agree to any conditions as they did not wish to be hampered. They intended making extensive improvements at a big outlay in the facilities for operating the road from this point and intended to complete the erection of shops, etc., by the time the new extension was built into St. Louis.
It was moved and seconded that the unconditional ordinance be put upon its first reading. This was done and the ordinance sent to its final passage and was carried unanimously.

On motion the council adjourned.

CAVING WALLS.

The Rain Weaken the Sides of the New Well at the Ice Plant.The proprietors of the ice plant are engaged in sinking an extremely deep well near their buildings.
They have had a large force of men at work until yesterday when a fatality was narrowly averted.W. H. Orrison, living at No. 221 East Pettis street, was in the well at work when he was startled by a quantity of loose dirt falling upon him from above. He immediately surmised what was going on, but before he could jump to a place of safety a mass of dirt and rock was upon him.Mr. Orrison received a severe contusion on the right side of his head, cutting open his scalp. His right leg was also caught and bruised and his shoe almost torn from his foot. Luckily, however, the caving stopped and he was taken to the surface of the ground.The accident so alarmed his associates that no more work was done yesterday.
